

Accelerated, Simplified Spend Management for More Visibility and Control

NTT DATA Spend Management Services for SAP Ariba

Benefits:

- More than 10 years of experience in spend management and e-procurement
- More than 100 SAP Ariba professionals with deep functional and technical expertise
- Support for SAP Ariba e-procurement and supplier relationship management solutions
- More than 28 years of SAP expertise and partnership
- World-class project methodology and governance
- Expertise in Foreign Corrupt Practice Act guidelines and regulatory compliance
- Onsite, offshore and nearshore model for 24x7 global support

Spend management systems have evolved far beyond traditional on-premises e-procurement systems. Today's mature cloud-based solutions span both the enterprise and its network of suppliers. Through long-standing partnerships with SAP and Ariba, combined with over a decade of spend management experience, NTT DATA Services is the ideal choice for implementing an efficient, integrated and holistic source-to-pay system for your business.

Tangible benefits for your business

As an SAP global platinum partner with more than 80 spend management consultants globally, NTT DATA specializes in aligning your resources against your spend management initiatives to help you achieve a manageable total cost of operations. By integrating new technologies for real-time spend management processes, we help can help you adopt:

- Complete end-to-end, peer-to-peer solutions
- Supplier relationship management
- Supply chain management
- Contracts management
- Advanced spend analytics
- Increased governance and compliance

As a result, you'll be able to increase efficiencies, spend visibility, process standardization and supplier collaboration while reducing costs and the complexity of vendor management and onboarding.

Partnerships for long-term success

Global companies in the Fortune 5000 rely on the Ariba Network to connect with trading partners to buy, sell and manage their cash more efficiently. NTT DATA has been working on the Ariba Platform since 2002 – and continues to manage some of the largest implementations worldwide for clients in the healthcare, life sciences, financial services, retail, energy and government sectors. Ariba is now an SAP company, and that means NTT DATA Spend Management Services for SAP Ariba can bring maximum benefits to every spend management project through the combination of our established practice partnerships with SAP and Ariba.

Our Spend Management Services

Ensure a successful spend management strategy, higher-quality and lower-risk implementations, and the execution of successful sourcing programs and projects. Our comprehensive range of services can help you migrate existing solutions from on-premises to cloud, or even create a hybrid combination of both:

- Strategic Consulting – Expertise in analyzing and designing a successful spend management solution
- Sourcing Services – Design and execution of successful sourcing programs and projects
- Implementation Services – Higher-quality, lower-risk, faster value implementations for on-premises and cloud-based solutions
- Managed Procurement Services – Tailored services to manage non-strategic categories, processes and infrastructure
- Support Services – Supports the direct use of all software (help desk, product support and training)
- Supplier Services – Ensures that buyers and suppliers transact in the most cost-effective, scalable manner

Our Spend Management Services

Automate spend management in the cloud (or on-premises)

It's time to move beyond the inefficient world of back-office paper and spreadsheets. Spend management is moving to the cloud where enterprises and suppliers can collaborate more efficiently. But whether you're still using traditional e-procurement systems or moving to the cloud, you need a precise roadmap to help you assess your spend management capabilities against best-in-class benchmarks. NTT DATA can put your enterprise on the fast track by determining the best product roadmap and implementation so you realize the benefits of Ariba's solutions faster.

Become the next success story

NTT DATA helped one of the largest pharmaceutical companies in the world implement an Ariba solution for e-invoicing. This resulted in a cost-per-invoice reduction of 50% and maximized pre-negotiated payment discounts. NTT DATA helped another client achieve process improvements and cost savings of more than 70% by providing user support, technical support, content management and supplier enablement support for all Ariba services. Contact us to learn how NTT DATA can develop a customized Ariba spend management solution for your business.
